

Pack of Cards Used as Bible

Soldier Accused of Impiety at Church, Convinces Magistrate That He Has Performed an Act of True Religious Devotion

Joseph Devey of 8 Floral court, the blacksmith who built the loop-the-loop on Franklin avenue, has in his possession a little book about two inches square, which he brought over with him from England many years ago, and which he has carried in his pocket for twenty years. The work is entitled, "Soldier's Prayer-Book or Pack of Cards Spiritualized: Also the Railway to Perdition and the Remedy." T. Good, 29 Ayresbury street, Clerkenwell, London, is the author.

The booklet is illustrated on the left hand pages with pictures of soldiers playing cards, and railway trains. The preface is as follows:

"The Soldier's Prayer-Book: Showing how one Richard Middleton was taken before the Mayor of the City he was in, for using Cards in Church during Divine Service: being a droll, merry and humorous account of an odd affair that happened to a Private Soldier in the Sixty-sixth Regiment of Foot."

As will be seen by the text, the spelling is somewhat obsolete and the use of capital letters and commas quite profuse. The story runs:

Pulls Out His Cards.

The sergeant commanded his party to the church; and when the parson had ended his prayer, he took his text, and all of them that had a Bible, pulled it out to find the text, but this soldier had neither Bible, Almanack, nor common Prayer Book, but he put his pack of Cards, and spread them before him, so he sat and while the parson was preaching, he first kept looking at one card, and then at another. The Sergeant of the company saw him, and said Richard put up your cards, for this is no place for them—never mind that said the soldier, for you have no business with me here.

Now the parson had ended his sermon and all was over, the soldiers were pulled to the church-yard, and the commanding officer, gave the word of command to fall in, which they did. The Sergeant of the city came, and took the man prisoner—"Man you are my prisoner," said he. "Sir," said the soldier, "what have I done that I am your prisoner?"—"You have played a game of cards in the church," "No," said the soldier, "I have not played a game, for I only looked at a pack."

"No matter for that, you are my prisoner," "Where must we go?" said the soldier, "You must go before the mayor," said the Sergeant.

Taken Before the Mayor.

So he took him before the mayor; and when they came to the mayor's house, he was at dinner. When he had dined, he came to them and said, "Well, Sergeant, what do you want with me?" "I have brought a soldier before you, for playing at cards in the church," "What?" said the soldier, "Yes," well soldier, what have you to say for yourself?" "Much, sir I hope."

"Well and good but if you have not, you shall be punished the worst that ever man was," "Sir," said the soldier, "I have been five weeks upon the march, and have but little to subsist upon, and am without either Bible, Almanack, or Common Prayer Book, or anything but a pack of cards, I hope to satisfy your honour of the purity of my intention."

When the soldier pulled out of his pocket the pack of cards, which he spread before the mayor, and then began with the ace.

Explains His System.

"When I see the ace," said he, "it puts me in mind that there is one God from whom I see the source. It puts me in mind of the Father and the Son; when I see the ten, it puts me in mind of the ten Commandments; when I see the four, it puts me in mind of the four Evangelists that preached the gospel, viz: Matthew, Mark, Luke and John; when I see the five, it puts me in mind of the five wise virgins that trimmed their lamps; when I see the seven, it puts me in mind of the seven days God rested from all the works, which he had created and made whereof the Lord blessed the seventh day and hallowed it; when I see the eight, it puts me in mind of the eight righteous persons, that were saved when God drowned the world, viz: Noah, his wife, three sons, and their wives; when I see the nine, it puts me in mind of the nine lepers (depre) that were cleansed by our Saviour; there were ten, but nine never returned God thanks; when I see the ten, it puts me in mind of the ten Commandments, that God gave Moses on Mount Sinai, on the table of stone.

He took the knave and laid it aside.

Solomon's Wisdom.

When I see the queen, it puts me in mind of the queen of Sheba, who came from the farthest part of the world to learn the wisdom of King Solomon, for she was as wise a woman as he was a man, for she had brought fifty boys and fifty girls, all clothed in boys apparel, to show before King Solomon, for him to tell which were boys and which were girls; but he could not, and he called for water for them to wash themselves; the girls washed up to their elbows, and the boys only up to their wrists, so King Solomon told by that. And when I see the king, it puts me in mind of the great King of Heaven, and Earth, which is God Almighty; and his majesty King George, to pray for him."

"Well," said the mayor, "you have given a very good description of all the cards, except one, which is lacking." "Which is that?" said the soldier, "The knave," said the mayor, "Oh, I can give you honour a good description of that, if your honour would be angry." "No I will not," said the mayor, "if you will not term me to be the knave." "Well," said the soldier, "the greatest that I know of, is the sergeant of the city, that brought me here." "I don't know," said the mayor, "that he is the greatest knave, but I am sure he is the greatest fool."

Show Divisions of Year.

When I count how many spots there are in a pack of cards, I find there are three hundred and sixty-five, there are so many days in the year; when I count how many cards there are in a pack, I find there are fifty-two, there are so many weeks in the year; when I count how many tricks there are in the pack there are thirteen, there are so many months in a year. The four suits correspond to the four seasons. You see, sir, that this pack of cards, is a Bible, Almanack, and Common Prayer Book, and Pack of Cards to me.

Then the mayor called for a loaf of bread, a piece of cheese, and a pot of good beer, and gave to the soldier a piece of money, bidding him to go about his business, saying, he was the dearest man he had ever seen.

The back of the book contains a poem of questionable merit from a literary standpoint, entitled "Railway to Perdition." This line begins in the Brewery and runs through all Public Houses, Drunken Shops, and Jerry Shops, in a zigzag direction, until it leads to the Kingdom of Perdition."

Neglected Colds.

Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. 25c. 50c. 75c. W. A. Kendrick, Valley Mills, Tex. writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat troubles; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy." For sale by Z. C. M. L. drug department.
